Create free test account: Verify the mail

The image consists of two side-by-side screenshots. The left screenshot shows a web browser window for 'atlassian.com'. It features the Atlassian logo and a cartoon character standing on a blue pillar. The text 'Great, check your inbox' is displayed above the character. Below the character is a message: 'We've emailed a verification link to: thorben.roeder@gmail.com. It will expire shortly, so verify soon.' A note below says 'Remember to check your spam folder.' A blue 'Resend email' button is at the bottom. A small note at the bottom of the page says 'Need to change your email address? You'll need to create a new account'. The right screenshot shows an email client interface with an email from 'Atlassian' to 'Peter Pain'. The subject is 'Almost there! Please verify your email address'. The body of the email includes a cartoon character and a message: 'Hi Peter Pain, You're almost there! Make sure you verify your email address and we'll finish setting up your site for you. And thank you for choosing Atlassian!'. A blue 'Yes, verify me!' button is at the bottom. The footer of the email includes links for 'Privacy Policy', 'Contact us', and 'Read our Blog', along with social media icons for Facebook, LinkedIn, and Twitter.

Create free test account: Congratulations! Now skip all questions

The image displays three sequential screenshots from the Jira Software setup wizard, illustrating the process of creating a free test account. Each screenshot features a purple header bar with the text "Welcome to Jira Software, Peter!" and a "Skip question" button at the bottom right.

- Screenshot 1: A purple box titled "What type of team do you work in?" contains a grid of buttons for various team types: Sales, Finance, Human Resources, Customer Service, Operations, Marketing, Software Development, Legal, IT Support, and Other. A green arrow points from this screen to the next.
- Screenshot 2: A purple box titled "Which of these best describes what you do? This will appear in your profile." contains a grid of buttons for roles: Scrum Master, Student, Product Owner, CTO, Program Manager, Business Analyst, Founder, and Other. A green arrow points from this screen to the next.
- Screenshot 3: A white box titled "Select some tools now and we'll help you connect them later" shows a network diagram with nodes for various tools: Slack, Microsoft Teams, GitHub, GitLab, Zendesk, Google Sheets, CircleCI, Sentry, and Jenkins. Below the diagram, the text reads: "Jira connects to the tools you use everyday making it easier for you to get more done." It includes "Skip" and "Next" buttons at the bottom right. A green arrow points from this screen to the right.

The image shows two screenshots of a Jira setup wizard. On the left, the 'Invite your teammates' step is displayed. It features an illustration of three people interacting with a large screen displaying a dashboard. The step title is 'Invite your teammates' with the subtitle 'Bring your team along for the ride!'. It includes fields to add email addresses (@example.com) and two checkboxes: 'Let anyone with a verified @s518528723.online.de email address join' and 'Let my teammates invite other people to our site'. A note says 'You can change these settings at any time.' and a 'Continue' button is at the bottom. A green arrow points from this step to the right step. On the right, the 'Help us set up your Jira' step is shown. It features an illustration of three people on a globe with a flag, titled 'Recommend a project' with the subtitle 'Answer a few questions and we will suggest a project type that works best for you and your team.' Below it is a section titled 'Help us set up your Jira' with a dropdown menu 'I am' set to 'new to Jira.' and a note 'new to experienced with'. At the bottom are 'Skip' and 'Next' buttons. A green arrow points from the 'Continue' button on the left to the 'Skip' button on the right.
